

Vicki Winterton & Organizing Mind over Matter Success Stories

Take a look at what our clients are saying ↗

“Where do we get the idea that we will somehow develop a skill if it has not happened in fifty years? I know the gifts I bring to life are many! I can give in those areas...areas that are my strengths. It was profound when I realized that I needed specialized help from a professional organizer. We all have different strengths. When our hair needs cutting...we hire a stylist. When we are ill...we hire a doctor. I finally wised-up and called Vicki. Vicki designed home storage and organizing systems to best fit my needs. I hired Vicki because my brain did not and never will, work like hers. Her giftedness lies in her love of people and happy attitude. She coached me warmly in my decision making, and she kept my secrets. I now feel a certain lightness of spirit...a lift to my soul. Contact Vicki to save valuable time and money by getting organized. The greatest part of all is that Vicki guarantees her work!” –Jan in Provo, a 2010 client

"I heard Vicki speak and thought to myself, 'I like her style'. I had been carrying a subconscious burden of 'stuff that needs to be organized someday' for 25 years...in fact, my whole married life. It is hard to describe the feeling of peace I felt after Vicki and I finished my home projects. I learned skills that will benefit me and my family the rest of our lives. Vicki was always positive, and optimistic about my situation and things. She was never judgmental or belittling; only patient, kind, professional, and helpful. Vicki lifts people to living better by teaching them important skills so they can enjoy lives & homes of order and peace.” –RobbiAnn in Lindon, a 2013 client

“When I called Vicki I was at my wits end. As a working woman I was overwhelmed by the clutter and chaos. Vicki quickly taught me that organizing took some time, but was not that hard. By categorizing and containing the stuff I decided to keep we got my kitchen, laundry room, and back entry organized in only two visits. With Vicki’s training I was able to organize my utility closet and master bedroom on my own. The amount of time and money I now save by knowing where everything is stored is invaluable. I have been able to keep the spaces organized for 3 months now and clean-up is a snap.” –Jill A. in Pleasant Grove, a 2013 client

"I found myself seeking Vicki's professional services after struggling to effectively manage a household and a family. In my past career as a working professional I considered organization as one of my strong points; however that task in my home with three little children was overwhelming. Vicki provided me with tools to organize my home. She offered processes to simplify the busy work and allow me to prioritize and spend my time where it mattered the most...with my family. I highly recommend Vicki's services for home spaces and home / family management.” –Jenna W. in Cedar Hills, a 2009 client

HOUSEHOLD PAPERS:

"I truly appreciated the opportunity to work with and learn from Vicki. Her enthusiasm and passion for helping me take hold of my "piles of paper" was inspiring. The system we put in place for my personal paperwork and my work-from-home business is working brilliantly! I love that my dining room table is always clean and that maintenance is a breeze! I have been easily able to maintain the systems and that has given me an increased sense of peace in my home. Working with Vicki has helped me progress forward in a way that continues to motivate me!" -- Deanna A. in American Fork, a 2013 client

HOME OFFICE:

"Before I worked with Vicki it took me a great deal of time to find what I needed in my office study. Now I know where everything is kept. I now have an attractive, organized, and peaceful room where I can get many things accomplished. The order of my office study has brought a peace and happiness to know that I'm in control, not my things in control of me." --Norma S. in Provo, A 2009 client

LAUNDRY ROOM:

"I have a huge laundry room that was a constant battle to keep functional. Vicki taught me how to use containers and labels to keep everything in order and how to limit myself to those containers. My laundry room is a piece-of-cake to maintain now. I'm having fun applying the organizing principles that I've learned from Vicki elsewhere in my home as well. Even my children have become way more organized. Each space that we organize makes me and my family that much happier!" --Jenna W. in Orem, a 2012 client

FAMILY MANAGEMENT:

"Vicki worked side by side with me on my kitchen family management center! It is fully functional and usable for the 1st time since I moved into my home 6 years ago. I really cannot express how good it feels to have the easy to maintain systems in place! I appreciate Vicki pushing me out of my comfort zone to finish this project." --Julie E of Mapleton, a 2010 client

“Wow! What a difference it has made to have Vicki Winterton help me organize my garage and basement storage! Now I love walking into those spaces and they have stayed organized for 6 months! –Lisa B. in Pleasant Grove, a 2011 client

KITCHEN:

“Vicki, I'm doing a little spring cleaning and thought of you. I thought I got rid of a lot of stuff last year when I hired you to help me with my kitchen; but I find myself getting rid of even more this year. I have been able to really go through and toss the unnecessary stuff because I find that I simply don't use it. Thanks to the training I received as we worked together side-by-side I am finally an organizing success story.” – Karen C. in Provo, a 2011 client

PANTRY:

“I had a good time with Vicki as we concentrated our efforts on getting my pantry put together in an orderly and logical way. It was helpful to have an objective set of eyes see for me what was obvious, but I had been missing. The finished product is liberating, and inspires me to move to other areas that need the same kind of detailed attention. I love the sense of having power over my things instead of the other way around.” --Leslie N. in Provo, a 2009 client

Special Needs Clients

ADD / ADHD Diagnosed Clients

“Processing paperwork and mail are my least favorite jobs on the planet. Eight months ago I misplaced and forgot to pay the mortgage bill on a rental property we own. It damaged my hubby's credit enough that at the time of closing on our new home we were not able to get the loan and had to pay over $50,000 more out of pocket than we were expecting. I felt horrible that I had added another struggle to our lives from my lack of organization! Because I am a creative thinker rather than a logical thinker, I didn't know if any system could help me. A friend suggested Vicki. She helped me understand that personalized paper systems and daily routines for me and my children were the answer. I still don't like routines, but the $50,000 we lost and my 3 sessions with Vicki were a great teacher.” –Sarah P., a 2012 client

“I was recently diagnosed with Adult ADD and was at a loss as to how to organize my busy schedule and life. Vicki helped me organize my home environment - creating simple and functional spaces that were easy to maintain and don't leave me feeling overwhelmed or wondering where things are. After our two days of working together my living space felt manageable and my head feels clear! Vicki helped me weed out unnecessary items, and then categorize & organize everything else in a way that intuitively makes sense to me. It's been three months since our consultation and I feel so much lighter. I would recommend Vicki in a heartbeat!” – Todd A. in Sandy (graphic design artist), a 2012 client

Other Service Options We Offer

ON-SITE-VIDEO SESSION:

“Vicki did an on-site video session for me where she moved through 3 home spaces and instructed me with very detailed organizing specifics for each room. The desktop file to take care of my paper piles that she detailed for me has made a world of difference. (In fact, my husband liked it so much he had me make one for his biz office.) I have learned more from this on-site video session than from decades of research, trying, and failing. My thinking patterns have changed to a full understanding. Organized success is what Vicki gave me!” A few months later Janice emailed → → “I continue to move along and am still enthused about my quest! Vicki, you have really helped me know for the first time in my life that I can do this!” -- Janice H. in Layton, a 2010 client

PHONE CONSULTATION:

“The first time I picked up the phone to call Vicki I could not have known what a tremendous blessing she would be in my life. She helped me create greater order in my home and helped me to feel hopeful in other areas of my life by way of our phone calls. Vicki listened to my concerns and helped me find solutions that best met MY needs. She is so positive and fun, and best of all she gave me encouragement and the confidence to know that I can truly be successful!” -- Linda S. in Cedar City, a 2010 client

GIFT CERTIFICATE:

“Cleaning my house for the last ten years has been an effort in futility. No matter how often I cleaned it, the house seemed messy again by the end of the day. Last Christmas, in a moment of pulling my hair out, I told my kids that if they wanted to get me something for Christmas, they should hire someone to help me organize my home. They took me up on my suggestion and bought me a $400 gift certificate for professional organizing services. I met with Vicki in January. After strategizing, Vicki and I started in the kitchen. Because of Vicki’s side-by-side help, my kitchen has stayed organized. The next time Vicki came, she showed me how to organize my paper piles into files and set up a billing station. This also continues to work well now, several months later. After these 2 sessions were completed, I took more courage and organized room after room on my own. The more rooms I did, the easier it became because the items were starting to find the right places that made sense. My house is small. There are a lot of us living here and it gets messy easily even now, but because everything has a GOOD home, it doesn't usually take very long to make it orderly again.” -- Suzy S. in Alpine, a 2009 client

NEW HOME SPACE-PLANNING:

“Vicki came to my home to look at new house plans that my husband had drafted for new construction. She spotted several areas where space could be better utilized for organized living by suggesting french-door closets in the office and family room. She checked over my kitchen layout to make sure all my food zones were correctly outlined. The home management center she identified off my kitchen will be much more useful to me now. The most important discovery came when I asked her to look at the master bedroom closet area. Her great suggestions allowed us to make the closet/changing area both roomy and elegant. It will be thoroughly enjoyed.” -- Cindy M. of Mapleton, a 2010 client
